EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR)

If you would like to continue to be a member of SET, we need your CONSENT to hold your personal data:

Under new EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) that comes into force 25th May 2018, we need your consent to hold the personal information you provide on the membership form. We will not use your data any differently than before. Under our privacy policy (see our website for full details of our GDPR policy www.swindongpeducation.co.uk) your personal data is held on our secure database, and used by SET in accordance with current data protection legislation. We will only use the personal data you provide to allow provision of our charity's CPD activities, including (but not limited to) taking membership payments, contacting you re upcoming courses, and requesting feedback for each event. Wherever possible, we anonymise your data to protect you. We only share your data with trusted third parties immediately affiliated to SET that are required to maintain the activities of the charity. You have the right to review, amend or have your data deleted at any time and can do so by emailing us at Kim.taylor18@nhs.net or calling 01793 605487. If you lodge a complaint with us about the handling of your data, and you remain dissatisfied with our response, you have the right to complain to the Information Commissioner's Office.
